Just the right fit

Perfectly frame all attendees, whether it's a couple people in a huddle area or a large group in a meeting room. The VC01A automatically zooms in or out to get everyone in the frame and comes with 3 customizable presets that can be adjusted to your liking.

Instant access every time

The VC01A comes with an intuitive UI with quick shortcuts to essential video bar features such as video conferencing and wireless screen sharing. You can even create your own shortcuts for convenient access to your preferred apps and files.

Let everyone share their ideas

Turn any TV, monitor, or projector into a smart display and allow your teams to present wirelessly with ease. Connect wirelessly using InstaShare 2 or use the plug-and-play InstaShare Button to cast content and exchange ideas.

Hassle-free screen sharing

The VC01A comes equipped with InstaShare 2, a wireless screen sharing software designed to enable more engaging discussions. InstaShare 2 works seamlessly with Windows, macOS, Android, iOS, and Chrome devices and fully supports AirPlay and Miracast protocols.

Cable-free communication

The VC01A works seamlessly with the InstaShare Button, a lightweight USB plug-and-play device that lets you share your laptop screen without using cables or installing additional software. It also enhances your video calls by allowing you to use the VC01A's built-in camera, mic array, and speaker.

Designed for your company

Designed for corporate use, the VC01A is stacked with features that not only enhance your meeting experience but also streamline management. These include an account and device management console, a real-time announcement system, multiple customization options, and even a voice assistant.

Keep everyone informed

Keep your teams up to date. Use X-Sign Broadcast with the VC01A to schedule messages or push important real-time announcements so that meeting attendees are always in the loop.

Match your corporate image

Change up the UI and strengthen your brand identity. The VC01A has a customizable interface, allowing you to switch the default wallpaper with company content or create shortcuts to streamline your workflow.
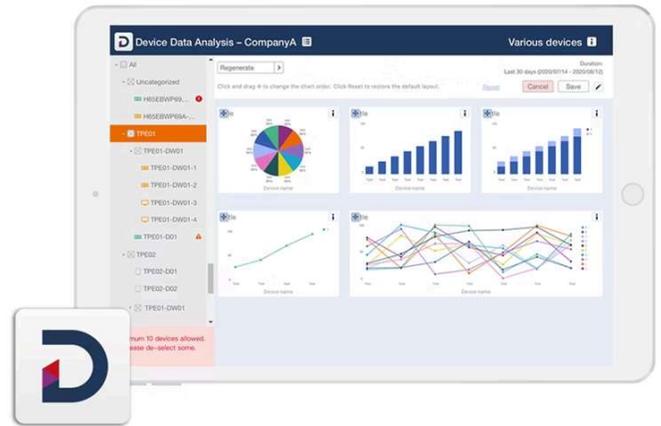

Securely access cloud storage

Load personal settings and securely access files on your cloud storage directly from the VC01A through BenQ's Account Management System (AMS). With Identity and Access Management (IAM), the company's AD server can also be synced for seamless user management.

Centrally manage devices

Easily monitor and analyze the status of all your BenQ devices on a single dashboard. Manage displays, apps, and OTA updates remotely for maximum convenience.

Convenient control

Lead discussions or give presentations on the VC01A from anywhere in the meeting room with the help of Saffi voice assistant and the remote control.

Virtual workspace access

With VMware Horizon Client, you can open virtual desktops on the VC01A to get instant access to hosted apps, files, and folders during a meeting.

Data and device protection

Protect your displays against malware while securing corporate data. BenQ offers data security and device protection with McAfee Mobile Security.
